1 WELCOME

city of Plattling - Hans Schmalhofer

Dear athletes of the Canoe Freestyle World Cup,

The city of Plattling is pleased to announce that the World Championship in Canoe Freestyle will be held on our Isar wave in the year 2025. We extend our gratitude to the committee for this delightful decision, the German and Bavarian Canoe Association, and, of course, our main event initiators, Mr. Thomas Hinkel and Ms. Anne Sommerauer from TSV Plattling.

Many of you, dear athletes, are already familiar with our water sports arena from previous competitions - perhaps even from the 2011 World Championship or the 2016 European Championship - and we are always delighted to welcome you back to Plattling.

As spectators, we look forward to all of you, exciting competitions, a great atmosphere at the wave, and an international flair throughout the entire city. We will do our best to provide you with the perfect conditions for the competitions and be excellent hosts.

Best regards,

4 VENUE

4.1 Description of competition venue and sport infrastructure

The Plattling Wave is located in a nature reserve and has served as a meeting place for the European freestyle scene for years. Every year there are training camps and all kinds of competitions. We have already organised many national championships, EuroCups, WorldCups, the European Championships 2016 and the World Championships 2011.

Since the World's, Plattling has been one of the most popular playspots in the world. The sections upper and below the wave offer numerous possibilities for first paddling attempts. The lower Isar below the feature is one of the most beautiful canoe tours in Bavaria. The Isar wave is the ideal training spot for beginners. Not only professionals appreciate the easy entrance and their large eddy. In summertime, the large green areas also attract numerous sun worshipers to chilling, refresh and barbecue. Not a few of them venture into the waves with short surfboards. So the Isarwave has already made a name for itself in the surfers scene.

4.3 Presentation of the technical aspects of the wave

The 60 Metres wide wave is formed by a stopper that has been built to protect the riverbed from getting washed out so it protects the bridge upstream.

4.4 Feature

The Isarwelle in Plattling is a hole feature that tends to become wavy with higher flows.

The Isar wave in Plattling is well known and one of the best Playspots in Germany. This is mainly due to the surrounding conditions. The wave is absolutely suitable for beginners. It is easier than everywhere else to enter the wave from the eddy and the big eddy is catching everyone back after a flush or an occasional swim. The competition takes place on the left river side.

Squirt boaters paddle in the big eddy for their moves and use the eddy line for their mystery moves.

Water level Isar, Plattling (update every 15 minutes)

<https://m.hnd.bayern.de/pegel.php?pgnr=16008506>

< 160 cm : boney, easy to hit rocks at the bottom

160 - 190 cm : still boney but you'll find sweet spots where it is possible to do all moves

190 - 210 cm : perfect! at 200cm you won't hit a rock at the bottom anymore, to set up tricks is easy, hole is easy to manoeuver

210 - 220 cm : still very good. the hole gets flatter. Plugging loops becomes a bit more difficult, spins get easier...

220 - 240 cm : hole gets a even a bit more flat. Still good for all hole moves, perfect for beginners and endless surfing. Professionals should take a look at the wave on the river right - it gets more wavy there.

240 - 280 cm : Very flat wave on river left, still good for beginners - take care of the eddy line! Beautiful wave on the river right!

280 cm : Meadow starts to be flooded. / Still a good wave up to 290cm. At 300cm the wave flattens out and is not suitable for freestyle boats anymore.

For safety reasons, we are allowed to hold the event up to a level of 260 cm.
