5. Items for Resolution by Board of Directors

The Commission evaluated comprehensive the current situation of our disciplines and completed with the recommendation for the Olympic program 2020 and the strategy for the selection of the program 2024 their work. It's now the responsibility of the decisions making bodies within the ICF structure and the discipline experts to decide about the program for the Games 2024 and further changing's in sports presentation. This should be making under consideration of the IOC deadline for new events or disciplines within the Olympic Games. The Commission will deliver a final working document until the next Board meeting.
